LEGO MANIA HITS THE HOLIDAYS!!

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

UP CLOSE & PERSONAL

Maniacs, scope out this page carefully! It's packed with groovy details about your favorite LEGO celebrities and clues to help you solve the mysterious contest on the back page!

The Royal King

Favorite game: Chess
Favorite food: Datmeal Pudding
Favorite Movie: Robin Hood
Favorite Headgear: His Shiny Crown

The royal ruler enjoys bombing around in his carriage and practicing his swordplay.

What does he like best about modern times?

Snowboarding and TV. "There's a great mountain near Rudolph, Wisconsin, where you can grab some serious air and do extreme 'boarding tricks," says the king.

The king especially likes watching Castle Improvement on TV. "Not many people know how to fix a trapdoor like Hal and Jim," he says.

Captain Redbeard's friends include a monkey named Coco and a parrot named Squawks. He keeps busy by changing the entrance to his secret hideout. "How can you have a secret entrance when that blasted parrot won't keep his beak shut?"

To relax, Captain Redbeard likes to ski barefoot behind his souped up Renegade Runner. He's working on a barefoot jump he calls the Pirate Plunge.

When visiting the 20th century, he sneaks off to LEGO, West Virginia, with his metal detector and tries to find his favorite hook, which he lost while burying some treasure.

Captain Redbeard

Favorite book: Treasure Island
Favorite hobby: Coin collecting
Favorite movie: Hook
Favorite cartoon character: Yosemite Sam

Becky Blastinoff

Favorite food: Freeze-dried ice cream
Favorite TV Show: Star Trek: Voyager
Favorite hobby: Stargazing
Favorite Vehicle: Moon Dune Buggy

It's all systems go for this gung ho astronaut. What does Becky like best about being in space? "Zero gravity," she says. "I just have to remember to keep my arms tucked in when I sleep. Otherwise they float up and hit me in the face, waking me up."

Back on earth, Becky goes home to Evergreen, Alabama, where she's the champion "grabber" game player at the video arcade. "After plucking satellites out of space with the shuttle's 'Canadian arm,' I can grab one of those stuffed animals with my eyes closed."

When Jock isn't harvesting hydrolator crystals with the Neptune Discovery Lab's crane, he's running a chain of underwater sub shops that feature kelp burgers, seaweed salad, and plankton pizza.

His favorite sport is octopus wrestling, but he hasn't won yet. "In my last match in Snowflake, Arizona, even with two arms tied behind its back, I still couldn't beat that critter," Jock says. But for Jock, nothing beats strapping on his oxygen tank, fins, and mask and cruising colorful coral reefs.

Jock Clouseau

Favorite food: Kelp burgers
Favorite TV show: SeaQuest
Favorite movie: Jaws VI: Return of the Aquasharks
Favorite song: Under the Sea

"MAJISTO, A DROID?"

by: Beau Christian Hesterberg of Texas

One day the heard rumors about a attacking villagers near his castle. The reports said that the attacks came from a fire breathing fortress atop a cliff. So the took his sword Excaliber, and scaled the cliff. He wondered, "How does control the ? I don't believe in sorcery."

Soon the was at the top of the cliff. There he saw ! "Majisto," the called, "your dragon days are over!" waved his wand, and the lunged. The swung his sword Excaliber. The leaped back. The grabbed and shook him. Majisto's clothes and skin ripped off. was a !

The shook his wand, and it sent radio signals. The lunged again. The ducked in between the 's legs, and crawled up his back. The saw something in the 's ear. He took it out. Suddenly the turned upon the and destroyed it. Turning to the , he said, "Thank you. That evil put the ear phones in my ear and drove me crazy. Is there any way I can repay you?" The replied, "Can you take me back to my castle? It's a long hike." THE END

Wow! Pretty intense story, Beau! We can't wait for the sequel.

COOL CREATIONS

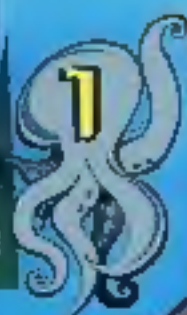

AQUAPUS

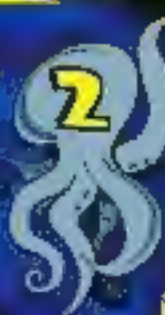

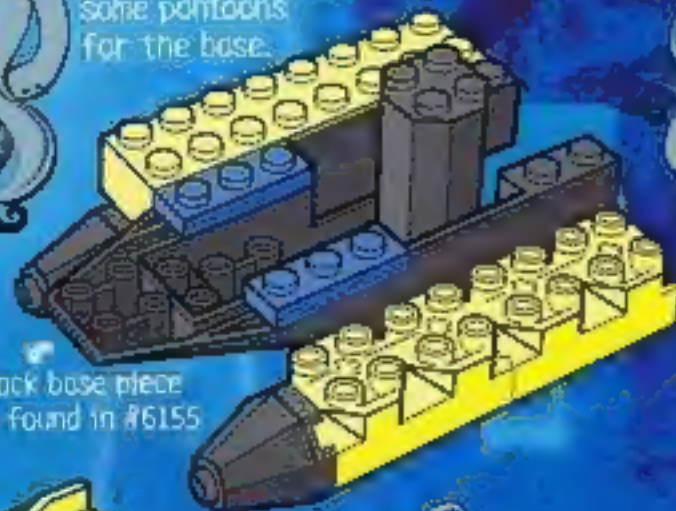

You can build your own "Aquapus" with pieces found in #6175 Crystal Explorer Sub, #6155 Deep Sea Predator, or with the pieces from your own collection!

Richard Noone, age 8, of Arizona sent us his great idea for the high-speed, multi-armed, crystal seeking Aquapus.

Your design could be featured in Cool Creations. Send in your original model-making instructions to:
LEGO Club, "Cool Creations"
P.O. Box 1308, Enfield, CT 06083.
Club members featured will receive a free LEGO set of their choice ($100 value)!

Start out with some pontoons for the base.

Add in a 4x6 plate for the floor of the cockpit.

Power up this cool crystal grabber with a high-powered engine.

Start building the flexible arms of this multi-armed machine.

Attach the magnet and add the utility hooks on the tower for your underwater tools.

Put an Aquashark behind the controls, then take-off on your first mission.

AQUANAUTS SURFACE IN TUB'S SUDS!

Snowflake, AZ •
 Ten-year-old George Bailey watched in amazement as his Neptune Discovery Lab swung into operation in the boy's bath. "I was just putting my foot in the water to see how hot it was when an octopus grabbed my toe. Then the lab lit up and the crane started unloading hydrolator crystals from the Crystal Explorer Sub," explained George.

George ran to get his mother and brother Harry, but when they went into the bathroom, there was nothing unusual happening in the tub. Then, when George climbed into the tub, the lab started up again. "It was real cool looking. The crystals were glowing, the motors humming and then an Aquanaut popped up through the bubbles and winked at me," George said.

Maniacs Want to Know

TOWN DECORATED BY ELVES FROM SPACE?

Evergreen, AL • • Over the last 12 nights, trees in Evergreen have been mysteriously decorated. Families who put up trees in the evening woke up to find their trees completely decorated. Left by each tree were small footprints:

Those footprints led people to believe that elves using space ships were the culprits... until now. An eye witness, Cindy Lou Dew, said her LEGO space shuttle decorated her family's tree. Little Cindy Lou got up last night to get a glass of water. She heard a noise and went to investigate. "The shuttle blasted off from the launch pad and zoomed to the top of the tree towing a string of lights. Then the astronauts hung a LEGO ornament on the tree's highest branch with the shuttle's special Canadian Arm,"

Cindy Lou said.

Nope! Little Cindy Lou Says Shuttle Nauts Decorated Her Tree!

BOY LIVES IN ... TOY CASTLE!

Big Deal!
I've lived here forever!

Rudolph, WI • • Dan Anderson caused quite a stir in history class when he returned from vacation. Dan came to class wearing a cape, helmet and shield. "I'm training to become a Royal Knight," Dan told his teacher. When Dan said he was living in his LEGO Royal Knights Castle, he was sent to the principal's office.

This is Dan's story: "After I took my present up to my room, the Royal King rode over the drawbridge and said, 'Squire Dan, follow me for adventure.' So I did. It was weird. At first, I didn't think I'd fit. But when I touched the drawbridge, lights flashed, there was smoke, and, poof, I was inside. It's really cool living in a castle. There are secret passages all over; a ghost hangs out in the tower and there is an awesome catapult. The food's a little weird though. I eat most of the stuff - except for the eels. And the best part is the awesome ride back to my bedroom. I just open a trap door and slide down this slick ramp into my room."

LEGO village grows out of boy's head!

"I was building like mad when it suddenly appeared" said Jeshua. "It does not hurt. But getting my hair cut has become a problem!"

... Is it really true?

Pirates Plunder Prize Presents!

LEGO, WV • • All over the world, holiday gifts have been disappearing. At the same time, large piles of sand have mysteriously appeared on Skull Island. Coincidence? "I think not," says King Kahuka. "I know for a fact that the pirates have been heisting holiday treasures and hiding them on Skull Island," he said. "They already filled up their secret cave with the big stuff like bikes and catamarans," the Islander King added.

King Kahuka screams "Stop Thief"

PRINCIPAL

When told about King Kahuka's comments, Captain Red Beard replied, "The king is just mad because he didn't get the new red catamaran with the shields, spears and drum that he asked for. We have that...I mean, oh, you wanted to know about the, ah, sand piles. Well, the crew and I are just building a giant sand castle so we can get in the Guinness Book of Records."

Lizard seen driving Space Plane in Illinois?

Ryan Winslow & David Parrish spotted it late last night zooming down their town.

WEATHER WARNING!
A heavy blizzard dumped a ton of snow in LEGO Town. Skiers and sledders should be careful.
Loud noises and lots of sledding activity could cause avalanches. The fast moving storm is now headed to the North Pole, where the storm could delay delivery of holiday presents.

TECH TIPS

Hey Maniacs!
Make it Move with LEGO TECHNIC!

LEGO TECHNIC sets are special because you build cool moving parts on every model. Build fun Features like: springing suspensions, pumping pistons, rotating rotors, working cranes, opening trunks and shifting gears. LEGO TECHNIC models look so real, you'll think they move by themselves. (And parts of them will - when you add the #8720 9-volt Power Pack.) If you were only seven inches tall, you could really move in these high powered vehicles. There are planes, helicopters, motorcycles, race cars, off-roaders and a monster truck.

LEGO MANIAC, Eric Bengfort of Texas, says this about his Rebel Wrecker: "I like the suspension best. You can push on it and it bounces just like a real one would."

Drive over anything with big balloon tires!

The Rebel Wrecker has lots of rad features!

#8720
Power Pack

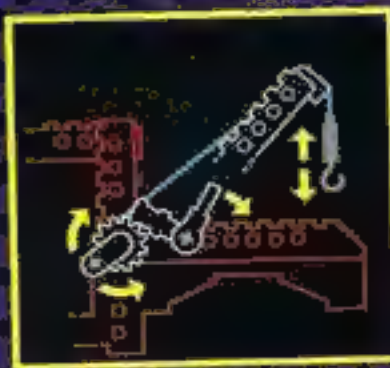

Crank the crane and give dude cars a tow!

Steer the beast with the knob on the roof!

Every LEGO TECHNIC set includes instructions to build 2 models.

Eric built the alternate Dune Buggy model!

Power up with 6 pumping pistons!
